

NORWICH ROOKS TOO STRONG

For Light Montpelier High School—Latter Lost 49 to 0

ALTHOUGH THEY FOUGHT HARD

Came Within 9 Yards of Scoring on Shoe String Play

The Norwich freshmen team defeated Montpelier high school in a fast game on the National Life Athletic association field in Montpelier yesterday afternoon by a score of 49 to 0. The freshmen scored two touchdowns in the first quarter, two in the third, and three in the last. All goals were kicked. Montpelier, although far outplayed, put up a hard fight from the first kickoff to the final whistle. They were weak on interference, but Dobbs was a sure ground gainer. The offensive and defensive work of Turner at left guard was a feature of the game.

Kelley, at quarter for the freshmen showed good generalship and carried the ball for a number of good gains. He developed the rookies' overhead game a great deal, most of the time with good success.

Montpelier was within nine yards of the Norwich goal line in the second quarter, but lost the ball on downs. Dobbs made a good gain on a forward pass from near the center of the field and a shoestring play was tried, but failed. Two penalties put the ball on Norwich's 15-yard line, and the ball was advanced to the nine-yard mark, but the Norwich line proved too heavy to get through for the touchdown.

The weight of the rookie line also told in the third quarter, when two blocked kicks gave them a touchdown, the ball rolling over the line on the second. The Montpelier line showed spirit beyond their weight when they held the heavy Norwich backs in the shadow of the Montpelier goal posts in the last period.

The lineup follows:

HARTNESS PRESENTS EMBLEM

To Department of Vermont of the American Legion.

L. A. Kelly of Montpelier received a telegram from Mrs. Henry Norton, national delegate of the Auxiliary to the American Legion, Major Leonard A. Wing and Allen Fletcher, adjutant of the Vermont department of the Legion, dated at Toronto, Ont., Tuesday afternoon on the special car occupied by the members of the Legion and auxiliary delegation, in which it set forth that Governor Hartness has presented the Vermont department of the Legion with the national emblem in a strong speech affirming his unqualified support of Legion ideas.

Colonel Burt Hyland made the acceptance speech, Governor Hartness was made the first honorary member of the department of Vermont and was unable to respond because of overwhelming emotions. Major Jackson made a touching speech of appreciation of the work which Vermont did in putting him across as national vice-commander.

Good Officers.

"A good officer," said Gen. Pershing at a dinner, "turns even adversity to advantage. Like the young drug clerk, you know."

"Young man" a lady said to this chap, "I want about a pint of glycerine, please."

"Yes, madam," said the drug clerk. "That will be 35 cents—50 cents for the glycerine and a nickel for the bottle."

"But a month ago," the lady objected, "I got some glycerine here and you didn't charge anything for the bottle."

"Yes, madam," said the drug clerk promptly. "Then that will be 60 cents."—Detroit Free Press.

Others Relieved—Why Not You?

Catarrh Does Harm—Get Rid of It.

Catarrh of the nose or throat when it becomes chronic weakens the delicate lung tissues, deranges the digestive organs, and may lead to consumption. It impairs the taste, smell and hearing, and affects the voice. It is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla, which by purifying the blood removes the cause of the disease and gives permanent relief. This alternative and tonic medicine has proved entirely satisfactory to thousands of families in three generations.

If there is biliousness or constipation, take Hood's Pills—they are purely vegetable, gentle, thorough.—Adv.

Resolutions.

Whereas, Bartolomeo Vanzetti and Nicola Sacco, two workmen, were on trial for their lives in Dedham, Mass., on May 31, charged with cold-blooded murder, and

Whereas, we are reliably informed that these defendants are men with clean records, men who have devoted years of their life to solidifying their fellows against exploitation in the mills and shops of New England, and

Whereas, grave charges were made by the defense, to the effect that the conviction of Vanzetti (for another crime) was obtained on circumstantial and flimsy evidence, and on evidence never introduced in open court, therefore be it

Resolved, that we, the members of Barre local, International Granite Cutters of America, assembled at our regular meeting Oct. 30, 1921, pledge our co-operation to the defense in its effort to obtain a re-trial; and that we, as all members of organized labor to help, morally and financially, in this effort and be it further

Resolved, that we immediately send copies of this resolution to the Honorable Channing Cox, governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; to Honorable Frederick G. Katzmann, district attorney of Norfolk county, Massachusetts; to Jeremiah Driscoll, president of the Boston Central Labor union, and to the several press associations, and the various daily newspapers.

FIRST MEETING OF "BIG THREE"

Princeton and Harvard Out to Break Tie in Series

LESS COLOR THAN USUAL NOTED

Coaches Say Their Men Are In Good Shape

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 5.—Princeton and Harvard meet on the gridiron at the Palmer stadium this afternoon in the first battle of the year between members of the "Big Three." The game was expected to break the tie that has existed for two years between the Crimson and the Orange and Black. More than 50,000 spectators were expected to see the contest.

The Harvard eleven held its final practice in the stadium yesterday afternoon shortly after the Tigers had finished their work, and went to Trenton for the night. The men planned to leave immediately after the contest today for New York, where a section of seats at a theatre was reserved for them.

The followers of both teams were confident of the outcome but neither of the coaches, Bob Fisher of Harvard and Bill Roper of Princeton, would make any definite statement as to the result. They merely said their men were in good shape and that they expected a close, hard-fought game.

Princeton was crowded with visitors for the game, but the burst of color that used to be a feature was in some degree missing. The shopkeepers, who for years decorated their windows for the occasion, for the most part decided not to do so and the vendors who have always been a part of the throng, were noticeably missing.

U. S. EXPRESSES REGRET.

Over Hardships Alleged to Have Been Suffered by British Subjects.

New York, Nov. 5.—The regrets of the United States government have been expressed to Great Britain for hardships alleged to have been suffered at Ellis Island by British subjects, William W. Hubbard, commissioner of immigration, stated yesterday.

He made this statement in connection with the questioning in the British house of commons Thursday of Cecil Harmsworth, under-secretary of foreign affairs, who said repeated representations to the United States had brought no tangible result.

Complaints made about conditions at Ellis Island have proved to have only about 10 per cent of justification, he said, but are being assiduously used as trade propaganda against the United States.

"Mark Glanville, a South African, who was refused admission last July because the quota for South Africa had been exceeded," he continued, "refused to appeal his case to Washington. If he had done so he would undoubtedly have been temporarily admitted to continue his studies at the Y. M. C. A. training school at Springfield, Mass., which had been interrupted by the war."

Complaints made about conditions at Ellis Island have proved to have only about 10 per cent of justification, he said, but are being assiduously used as trade propaganda against the United States.

In the case of a British subject born in Egypt who was barred because the Egyptian quota had been filled, the commissioner continued, there was more justification for complaint. The man was admitted to the country after a week's delay, on the ground that his parents, native of England were only temporarily in Egypt at the time of his birth.

Breaking the Speed Laws.

Uncle Alec Wilson was jogging slowly into town behind old Sam. Sam isn't geared to do more than four miles an hour. Anything more than that makes her sweat under the breast-band.

Uncle Alec noticed a sign along the road which said: "City limits. Speed 15 miles per hour."

"They can make their fool laws if they want to," exclaimed Alec, "but so far as I'm concerned I pay no attention to that. Why, old Sam could never make that speed, and I'll be darned if I try to urge her to, even if the law does require it."—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

DEMANDS NEW COMMITTEE

To Have Charge of American Participation in Schooner Race

GLOUCESTER OUGHT NOT TO BE ALONE

Other Ports Should Be Represented, Says Mayor Wheeler

Gloucester, Mass., Nov. 5.—Re-organization of the American race committee, which had charge of the selection of the Elsie, unsuccessful defender of the international fishing vessel championship, is demanded by Mayor Percy Wheeler. The present members should resign, he thinks. "Men who know the bowsprit of a schooner from its stern" should hold their places, and ports other than Gloucester should be represented, the mayor asserts.

His views, announced at a meeting last night, will be pressed, he said today, until a new order of things is obtained. The mayor declared: "We want no more Mayflower episodes," referring to the fact that the Mayflower of Boston, nominated as the American defender, was disgraced. "This race should be open to all. The committee should be composed of master mariners and vessel owners with representation for Provincetown and Boston."

"Now, then," explained the director carefully, "at the word 'Camera' you climb into the library through the large window. Then you creep up behind Van Nordan's chair and raise your stiletto for the death blow. But before this can happen your eye falls upon a picture hanging over the mantel. It is a photograph of your dear mother. The man in the chair is your brother. You are horrified—astounded. You drop the knife and sink out of the room. Good night."

The new leading man nodded. A second later, to the noisy accompaniment of a camera, he climbed into the set via the window. Creeping up behind his unsuspecting victim he raised the murderous stiletto. Then his eyes wandered to the picture over the mantel. A slow grin spread over his features.

"Surprise!" the director shouted at him. "Register surprise! You're looking up at your mother whom you haven't seen for 20 years—not at a cartoon in Judge."

But the actor continued to grin and indicated the photograph with a convulsive wave of his hand. Angriely the director strode into the set and stared at it.

"Who put that there?" he gasped, reddening.

The picture was an excellent likeness of the noble looking Father of His Country, George Washington.

A Paean to Pumpkin Pie.

Of all the delectable dishes ever set before a king the American pumpkin pie is the best of all. Poems should be written about the pumpkin pie, its worth set forth in song and story, and recipes for its making stored in the bureau of standards.

With the first touch of real fall pumpkin pies have made their annual appearance in Washington, and something really ought to be done about some of them. To any one who has ever tasted a real pumpkin pie, some of these local efforts are a snare and a delusion. They are no more pumpkin pies than apples pips are. Cinnamon can masquerade as
